From Erik’s Desk

When you think of failure, what comes to mind? The word has a lot of baggage for most of us. For me, I think of the things I haven’t been able to do. Failure is most often associated with things that I haven’t been able to accomplish. When I was a young child I received a shiny new bike as a gift. It had training wheels. I had finally grown up to have a two-wheeler after years of being the only neighborhood kid left driving the three-wheeled Big-wheel. I loved the Big-wheel, but I was excited to be one of the big kids with a real bike. I would ride down the street leaning left or right on that training wheel. One day the handlebar loosened a bit and I went to the open garage door of our next door neighbor and I showed the loose handlebar to him and he fixed it. He then, graciously, decided it was time to remove the training wheels. I walked the bike back to our garage and never touched the bike again. Failure. When I think of failure, this memory of the bike often comes to mind. I was in first or second grade and it has stayed with me.

The problem, though, isn’t necessarily with failure, but rather the fear of failing and what that fear can do to us and keep us from doing. The fear of failure – the fear of being a failure – can paralyze us or at least limit our growth. Several years ago when I was working out with a trainer, I was lifting weights and the trainer asked me whether I could do it again. I answered by lifting the weight again. We increased the amount of weight and she again asked me whether I could lift it again. We continued this process and she finally said that we were trying to get me to failure. Failure. Why? I don’t want to fail! Everything in my fiber says that failure is bad. My trainer told me that muscle growth happens best when we reach failure. Without lifting until failure, I would never maximize my growth.

While there are varied arguments about whether lifting weights to failure is a best practice, there is something we can learn here as the church and as Christians on this journey. If we are constantly paralyzed by the fear of failure – only working to do the things we know and we can do without risk, we’ll never grow as individuals or as a church.

Gathering Around the Table

If you’re looking for a great way to meet new people, get connected, strengthen existing friendships, and enjoy great fellowship, fun, and food, we invite you to join us “Gathering Around the Table.” If you are new to PCWS, or if you’ve been around here for years, this is a great place to start.

“Gatherings” are monthly get-togethers where adult PCWS members and friends, married and single, gather for the opportunity to fellowship and get connected within our church family. “Gatherings” may be a potluck dinner, a cookout, appetizers night or a meal at a local restaurant. Signups will be done monthly, for each gathering, as your calendar allows. To sign up and/or learn more about this fun fellowship opportunity, and the individual “Gathering” events on SignUpGenius or on the bulletin board outside the Jones Room. If you have questions, please email Theresa Dixon. Please join us. New friends are waiting to meet you!

Upcoming “Gathering” dates:
Tuesday, November 13th – Lunch at a restaurant, 11:30 a.m.
Saturday, November 17th – Dinner 6:00 p.m.
Saturday, December 8th – Holiday gathering, appetizers at 5:30 p.m.

Failure is still something I don’t enjoy, but it is in failing – and recovering – that we grow and growth, for all of us, is a good thing. May we be looking at our lives and our church and looking for ways to potentially fail so that we, too, can experience growth!

As more of us shop online, and with the holidays upon us, if you shop at Amazon, please click on the graphic above, or use this link to shop and have a portion of your purchases donated to PCWS: http://smile.amazon.com/ch/36-6009525

Or, visit smile.amazon.com and choose PCWS as your favorite charity.

Anyone can choose PCWS as their favorite charity, why not ask your friends and family to choose PCWS?

Winter Addresses

Going away for the winter? Make sure to update your address with the church office. Let us know when you'll be leaving and returning to Illinois, so that we can make sure to forward church mail to your winter address.

Safe Space Information Session

We will be offering an information session and training on our Safe Space Policy, Sunday December 9, 10:45 a.m.

One of the requirements of our policy is to have a minimum of two Approved adults present for every activity – Sunday School, nursery, UPY meeting or outing.

Please consider becoming “Approved” and helping PCWS offer safe programs for children, youth and adult volunteers.

Please contact Loretta Gratias –Bremer or Michelle Hennessy with questions or for more information.

Lunches . . Programs . . Fellowship . . Mission

All women are invited to a luncheon Thursday, November 1st, 12:30 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church of LaGrange. The program, titled “Hoard ing or Clutter and How Do I Lighten the Load”, will be presented by Dani Krogh. Cost is $12.00. Please RSVP to our church office by noon on October 29.

Friday, November 2 - Church Women United Community Day at Plymouth Place. Bible study at 9:30 a.m. followed by the program at 10:30 a.m.

Early Afternoon Circle meets Thursday, November 15 at 1:00 p.m. Discussion centers around the Horizons’ Bible Study, God’s Promise – I am with You, Lesson 3 – “God with Us in Our Discouragement”

Late Afternoon Circle will meet Tuesday, November 27th at 4:00 p.m. to continue its study of Robert Reich’s The Common Good. Please contact Sue Eck for further information.

Women’s Retreat – November 2 - 4

You are not going to want to miss this retreat for fun, relaxation, fellowship, and joy, as we come together to praise the God who rejoices in all our stories. We invite you to treat yourself to a time-out. To take a break from the everyday stuff of life, and give yourself time to remember. Give yourself the gift of meaningful connection with other women of faith, as you share your stories together.

Ask yourself, “What if you saw your hands as a catalogue of your life up to this point? What lessons have you learned? What experiences are you grateful for? Where have you seen God at work in the stories of your hands? And what might be the new stories of serving and worshiping and living out God’s call in your life that God may be wanting to write next in your life?” Contact Mindy McMahon with questions, and to see if there’s still room!

Interfaith Book Group

The Interfaith Book Group will meet on Wednesday November 14 at 1:30 p.m. at PCWS. We will meet in the Jones Room and share our reading experience of the book Educated: A Memoir by Mary Westover. Jerry Allers will be our leader. This promises to be another good discussion. The women of the church are welcome to join us and if you are new, please call or email Carol Stoub. The meeting date is different because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Stewardship Drive

Our lives are full of things trying to draw our attention. It is easy to be distracted from our faith, our church, and even our God. The wonder and beauty of God is that God promises that we can never escape the one who created us and loves us. Like a tree that is fed, nurtured, and strengthened by deep roots, we, too, are rooted and built up in Christ. The Apostle Paul wrote those words to a church not unlike our own. Paul was trying to encourage the Colossians to get back to the basics of their faith so that they would be equipped to continue to share the gospel and live it out in their community.

In 2018, our church has been an amazing community and our faithful support of this ministry has prepared us for the future. Years of deliberation and faithful contributions have resulted in the Capital Campaign funds being used to improve our property infrastructure through a significant drainage project, new air conditioner equipment and the remodeling of the manse. We purchased and dedicated a beautiful new organ and just this week we completed a refresh of our sanctuary. This year we also welcomed our new pastor! After years of anticipation and preparation, we are ready to walk alongside one another, into the next chapter for our congregation.

Like the Colossians, we are faced with a choice as to how the church will live in and love the world, our neighborhood and one another. How will this congregation have an impact in the lives of those we encounter? In recent years, our pledges to the annual budget have been insufficient to cover the budgeted expenses. Our leadership has been faithful in avoiding deficit spending and we have no debt. This year, as you consider your pledge to the annual budget, consider how you can be “abounding in thanksgiving” for what Christ is doing in our midst and how God is using us to be love in the world. By pledging for the first time or increasing your pledge, you will directly impact the work we can do as a church. Increased pledges will mean that we are living as a church not out of scarcity but out of abundance.

Being rooted and built up in Christ, Paul writes, we are abounding in thanksgiving. Friends, with all of the distractions of the world that draw us away from God, may this stewardship season be a time of renewal for you as you engage in the spiritual act of committing yourself and your resources to God’s work through our church.

It isn’t too late to submit a pledge for 2019. You can enter a pledge online or return a pledge card to the office. Every pledge is helpful and important, so whatever the amount, please return your pledge for 2019.

Pastor’s Bible Study

Please join Erik for a drop-in Bible Study Wednesdays, 2:00 p.m.—3:00 p.m. in the Graham Charter Room. We will look at the scripture text(s) for the upcoming Sunday morning and have great discussions!

Feel free to come any time and invite a friend to join you!

See Erik with any questions.

Book Club

Monday, November 26, 7:30 p.m.

In November, the group has chosen Killer of the Flower Moon by David Grann. In the 1920’s the Osage Indians were quite rich but they are being murdered one by one.

Please mark your calendars for the 4th Monday of the month, at 7:30 p.m. in the Graham Charter Room, for interesting discussions!

The group will not meet in December.

Mission Sunday School

November 4

Our second Mission Sunday for preschool-5th graders will take place on November 4. Jane Boxell and Kathy Wennerstrum will tell the children about our partner church in Nueva Paz, Cuba and they will learn more about Living Waters to which the children contributed $1,000 last winter.

Advent Fair, December 2

What a wonderful way to start off the Advent season with our PCWS friends. Join us in the Jones Room following worship for fellowship, crafts, music and a photo booth! The amazing UPY Cookie Walk will be in Room 202, and Mission opportunities will be available in the Graham Charter Room!

Bring your falalalala and your Christmas cheer and celebrate the many blessings of PCWS! If you would like to bake cookies or help by leading a table, please contact Kim Fronk.

Coming Soon: Mission Annual Alternative Giving Fair!

Please join us in the Graham Charter Room after worship on Sunday, December 2nd for this year’s Alternative Giving Fair. As in the past, there will be a range of opportunities for you to give directly to local, global and denominational mission agencies, as well as fair-trade items for purchase that are always great holiday gifts for neighbors, friends, family and teachers.

For starters, you can count on annual favorites like Divine Fair Trade Chocolate, Heifer International, Church World Service and Walmart gift cards for Margaret’s Village (formerly Maria Shelter) AND we will have some surprises again this year, as well. Watch for more details in your next Glad Tidings and PCWS communications!

All Church Caroling – December 9

Come and join PCWS, on Sunday afternoon December 9 at 3:00 p.m. There will be a warm bus to drive us to each stop—caroling to some members of our congregation! We’ll return to the church for dinner and fellowship! More details in the December GT and Weekly Emails.
Sanctuary Refresh—The Complete Story

Thanks to generous donors to the Capital Campaign and many volunteer hands to prepare and improve the space, the Sanctuary refresh came off on schedule between Sunday, September 23 and Saturday, October 6. Here is a recap of all the effort that went into the project:

In an orchestrated effort on September 23 after church, several dozen volunteers detached and moved nine pews that were broken (or not to be replaced) to the Jones Room. It was a “wagon train” operation, moving them with dollies to the front door and down to the parking lot and rolling them onto the stage. After carpet, padding, and dozens of staples were removed from the lowest platform in front of the church, it was cut down to allow the piano to rotate in place in the future and easily move to the center of the Sanctuary.

Volunteers moved the organ, piano, sound board, communion table, rear chancel table, pastor’s pew and two choir pews and all the choir chairs to one of the classrooms. Additional chancel work included reinforcing the pulpit platform. Also, a volunteer painted all of the structural members for the new organ speakers to match the speakers that are behind the new curtain.

Having picked up a 15-foot scaffold on Saturday, volunteer work continued through Sunday afternoon and evening to assemble and disassemble the scaffold twice in order to replace single flood lights on three overhead beams with six 4-foot track lights with a total of 18 new LED flood lights. Along with their new dimmers, these lights now brighten the chancel choir area, pulpit and lectern, as well as the areas around the piano and organ. With the scaffolding available, the original blue curtain behind the cross was removed and final measurements for the new curtain were taken.

On Sunday afternoon as well, the first contractor began work to detach and move the remaining 30 pews to the classrooms, where they were staged for their replacement at the end of the flooring project. Additional volunteers took advantage having the scaffold and the open Sanctuary space on Sunday, to replace 19 bulbs in the hanging Sanctuary fixtures with new LED bulbs. Volunteer activity took place for over 12 hours on Sunday, September 23.

On the following Tuesday through Friday, our contractor completed removal of the Sanctuary carpeting, surface preparation, and installation of the porcelain tile. On the following Monday, October 1 through Wednesday, additional contractor crews prepared the areas under the pews and installed the luxury vinyl tile and at the same time removed carpet from the chancel and laid the hardwood floor on the platform, steps, and chancel itself.

Working around the other crews during this period, the painting contractor removed the border and painted the narthex, the wall behind cross, and the other three walls in the Sanctuary. Each of these areas has slightly different colors to coordinate with their surroundings, flooring, and, in the case of the cross wall, the new curtain.

Arriving just in time on Tuesday of week two, the new curtain material for behind the cross was prepared, and volunteers again rented the scaffold, assembled it, and the new curtain was hung on Thursday night. At the same time on Thursday, volunteers returned all of the front-of-Sanctuary furniture and organ, piano, and sound board to their locations. The contractor placed the 30 pews in their new “roomier” configuration on Thursday and Friday.

as well. And then Sextons and volunteers rearranged some of the stored chancel furniture, and did a first cleaning of all the dust before Sunday, October 7. And, voila, worship was back in the Sanctuary.

Remaining items in the refresh include removing and replacing the carpet outside the elevator and classrooms with carpet tile—for easier maintenance as well as better appearance. New padded oak chairs are due to arrive at the end of October. Four of them have arms and will be placed in the two rows at the back of the church; these will be available for those who would prefer an easier way to rise out of the pews. After their arrival, 12 identical chairs, with no arms, will be placed in the front of the church or possibly serve as the new choir chairs.

If you’ve not been counting, the word “volunteer” appears ten times in this story. Thanks go to each of you for your efforts—often on several separate occasions—during this project. Because of you and the Capital Campaign, our house of worship is now more functional, comfortable, and inviting to all who come—be they member or guest.
A Word from Candice

HAPPY FALL PCWS! I CANNOT BELIEVE HOW TIME FLIES... I feel like we were just readjusting to familiar post-summer routines and talking about Rally Day- now, as I live and breathe, the holidays are upon us...CRAZY. When I was young I never understood when people would say the days are long, but years are short- yet those words ring so true.

October was lovely, the weather stayed nice long enough to give us time to ease into autumn. JUPYs and UPYs got off to a great start with a regroup/welcome back meeting and some spooky Halloween festivities. Thank you to everyone who helped make Trunk or Treat happen again! Also, congrats PCWS Family on an amazing CROP Walk. We certainly do mission right around here!

I hope that our JUPYS are enjoying the monthly ‘Jr. High Sunday School’ as much as I am. I think this time of exploring our convictions and growing our faith as a group during worship outside of the sanctuary is so enriching.

There is plenty more in store for the Youth now through Christmas. November will host two meetings, one traditional game night on November 11th with the JUPYs from 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. and the UPYs from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. On November 18th, we are going to coordinate a shared meal with all of the Youth together along with Pastor Erik to learn the meanings and traditions of the Christian faith. (See Calendar on next page.)

Speaking of food, I am finding sharing meals in transition between JUPYS and UPYs to be rewarding. Occasionally the dynamics of a mixed age group can get interesting but for the most part we are all better for it. We are looking for parental support for meals, starting at our November 11th date. You can sign up to help via Sign-Up Genius.

I know it’s a bit early to start talking about Christmas but coming up before we know it is the Advent Fair on December 2. UPYs (and support networks) start thinking about the cookie walk. Following the Advent Fair, we are going to try something new with the UPY Christmas party . . .with brunch immediately after the festivities. Also, a little different to spice things up, I am encouraging all the JUPY Families (or at least the JUPYS) to join us for Caroling, December 9, culminating at the end of the merriments with the JUPYs Christmas Party hosted by the ever-amazing Gertsmeier Family.

Frank Lloyd Wright once said, “give me the luxuries of life and I will willingly go without the necessities.” Let this be a gentle reminder that our Christmas parties always have a gift exchange. Please bring a funny gift worth $15, something simple and amusing.

Thank you all for all you do.

The Christmas Pageant - come support the wee ones!

Christmas Pageant

Save the date for our annual PCWS Christmas Pageant on Sunday, December 16 at 5:00 p.m.
Laurie Merrifield needs your help . . . both young and old . . . to bring back the traditional pageant and celebrate the birth of Christ!

During Sunday School classes on November 18 and 25, children will be invited to sign up for the roles they want. Signups will also be posted in the hall. Practices will be Friday, December 14 from 5:00 – 6:00 p.m. for the speaking parts (Mary, Joseph, Angel Gabriel, Angel of the Lord, narrators) and Saturday morning, December 15, from 9:00 – 11:00 a.m. for the entire cast. There is also a practice for all participants on Friday, December 14 from 4:30 – 6:00 p.m. The children should come to both practices but if there are conflicts, they should attend at least one of them. Parents are welcome to stay during practice, provide donut holes and milk, or to leave their children with us.

We are seeking assistance with costumes on Saturday and with make-up and costumes on Sunday. Children should arrive on Sunday, December 16 at 4:15 p.m. to get ready. We are also looking for someone with carpentry skills to spruce up our Advent animals in advance of the Pageant. If you would like to help or if your child would like to be part of this treasured tradition, please contact Laurie Merrifield.

The Gift of Warmth

As the season changes and the Holidays approach, please consider setting aside gently used coats and jackets, new winter hats and mittens/gloves to place at the Christmas Giving Tree coming in December.

As is our PCWS tradition, we will be collecting these items, as well as non-perishable food items, to share with our friends (and their children) in need.

November 22 and November 23
Church and Offices will be closed in Observance of the Thanksgiving Holiday.
